ERRATA SHEET FOR THE AAS REVISED BYLAWS

Dear Reader,

Errors were found after the AAS Revised Bylaws were published in The Petroglyph and on the AAS website. The errors are mostly grammatical, typos and so on, and do not affect the issues to be voted on at the State Meeting in Winslow on April 4. The corrections are listed below:

01. Page 2, Article I – change “PURPOSE” to “PURPOSES”
02. Page 3, Article II, Section 1-B, ACTIVE MEMBERSHIPS, line 3 – add a hyphen between “Active” and “Student” in “Active Student Contributing”.
03. Page 3, Article II, Indent Sections 2-D and 3-B.

42nd Annual ARARA Conference, May 22–25, 2015
Colorado Belle Resort and Casino, Laughlin, Nevada
For more information, visit ARARA.org.

The Arizona State Historic Preservation Office, the Arizona Preservation Foundation, and the City of Flagstaff invite you to join them at the 13th Annual Arizona Historic Preservation Conference. The goal of the Conference is to bring together preservationists from around the state to exchange ideas and success stories, to share perspectives and solutions to preservation issues, and to foster cooperation between the diverse Arizona preservation communities.

The Preservation Awards will be the focal event of the Conference. The 33rd Annual Governor's Heritage Preservation Honor Awards, presented by the State Historic Preservation Office and the Arizona Preservation Foundation, recognize people, organizations, and projects that represent outstanding achievements in preserving Arizona's prehistoric and historic resources. The 29th Annual Governor's Awards in Public Archaeology are also presented at the event. These awards, selected by the Governor's Archaeology Advisory Commission, recognize excellence in archaeological awareness, conservation and education. The awards make the conference more than a venue to learn, debate and network, but also a celebration of outstanding historic preservation efforts and achievements.

Archaeology Sessions:

- Implementing Simple Low Cost Tech Solutions for Field Collection and Data Share by Shann Dornhecker, UCLA Cotsen Institute Undergraduate Archaeology Grant Program.
- Recent Middle Archaic and Early Agricultural Period Research in Southern Arizona by Robert Wegener, Statistical Research, Inc.; James Vint, Desert Archaeology.
- Tribal Values and Cultural Landscapes by Jill McCormick, Cocopah Indian Tribe; Dawn Hubbs, Hualapai Tribe; Nora McDowell, Fort Mojave Indian Tribe.
- Managed Wildfires: A Remarkably Effective Tool in Historic Preservation on the Kaibab National Forest by Neil Weintraub and Margaret Hangan, Kaibab National Forest
- Backtracking: Archaeological and Ethnographic Perspectives on the Upper Queen Creek Basin by Anna Neuzil, J. Simon Bruder, and Maren Hopkins, EcoPlan Associates, Inc.
- Archaeological Preservation and Cultural Resource Management at Petrified Forest National Park by William Reitze, Bradley Traver, and Iva Lee Lehmkuhl, National Park Service
- Grand Canyon Pathways; Past, Present and Future Directions by Ellen Brennan, Jennifer Dierker, and Elizabeth Pidgeon, National Park Service
- The Dyck Rockshelter Collection: A Private Landowner's Preservation of Arizona's Ancient Heritage by Todd Bostwick, Verde Valley Archaeology Center
- Picture Canyon Natural and Cultural Preserve: History, Community Involvement, Acquisition, Management = Success! by Evelyn Billo and Robert Mark, Rupestrian CyberServices
- Evaluating the Significance of Historical Sites in Arizona (Parts 1 and 2) by Greta Rayle and Helana Ruter, Logan Simpson Design; Thomas Jones, Archaeological Consulting Services; Jim Cogswell, State Historic Preservation Office

CHAPTER NEWS

Desert Foothills Chapter

February Meeting: When we think of Charles Lindbergh, we often associate him with the Spirit of St. Louis and flying across the Atlantic Ocean in 1927 as an aviator and world celebrity. Not everyone is aware of Charles and Anne Lindbergh's involvement with archaeology in 1929. The Lindberghs joined highly regarded and renowned southwest archaeologist Alfred Kidder on an aerial photographic survey of significant southwestern prehistoric sites. This unprecedented adventure from an open-air cockpit biplane was the first major use of aviation in archaeology and included the sites and geologic features around Chaco Canyon, the Grand Canyon, Canyon de Chelly, and other elements throughout the general four corners area. Arizona Humanities speaker Eric Berg shared some of Lindbergh's historic photographs and described this pioneering collaboration of aviation and archaeology. The meeting was very well attended and the speaker did an impressive job with pictures providing insightful information about today versus then examinations. We also had a well-attended Track and Scat class with Al Cornell. Plus, a hike into the Tonto National Forest with Larry Morehouse and featuring Scott Wood's attendance.

March Meeting: Dr. David E. Doyel (Ph.D., UA), who recently retired as archaeologist for the Barry M. Goldwater Range - East for the U.S. Air Force, will inform us on the Western Papageria in southwestern Arizona. This portion of the Sonoran desert extends from the Gila River to the Gulf of California and Ajo Mountains to the Colorado River. Thousands of archaeological sites have been recorded and a long sequence of human occupation by multiple cultures is documented in this remote corner of Arizona. Gila Bend probably represents the general boundary of western expansion by the Hohokam and is the traditional home of the O'odham people. Recent research provides new insights into adaptations to this arid environment and also provides information of interest to modern descendant communities that once dwelled there. The presentation, History and Human Settlement in the Western Papageria, Southwest Arizona, discusses human use of this desert landscape through time and space that extends back to the Archaic and Paleo-Indian peoples.

Chapter Web News: (www.azarchsoc.org/desertfoothills) Keep up-to-date with the "new" 2015 Activities Calendar (often edited multiple times a month) and get advanced insight into all types of events coming up. There is a new "Member-Only" page on the AAS website. Instructions for accessing this section are on the AAS Home Page, DFC Chapter Page, and were sent out in an email blast from Mary/Glenda. Please get setup for this special AAS web page. You can also renew your DFC-AAS membership through PayPal, when logged on to the AAS website by password; instructions are on Home Page, DFC Chapter Page, and Member-Only page. On the Home Page of the AAS website (www.azarchsoc.org), there is a PowerPoint created a couple of years ago for a state meeting in preparation for the AAS 50-year anniversary including the founders of AAS. We are seeking historical information and four Home page links provide access to help with this important project. Please take a look and help AAS. Also, proposed AAS bylaw changes are found on the Member-Only page.

Special: The Spur Cross Ranch Expo/Fair is March 7th in Cave Creek area from 9 am to 3 pm. This popular special event features activities, hikes, booths, demonstrations and more. Vendors and sponsors include Desert Foothill Chapter, Cave Creek Museum, Liberty Wildlife, NFS retired archaeologist Scott Wood, Verde Valley Archaeology Center, Animal Healthcare Services, gold panning, and other activities. Watch for more information on this family friendly event! This is an Arizona Festival SCITECH Signature Event.

Special-2: Advanced notice for change of venue with the April 8th meeting in anticipation of a significant increase with participation. The April Meeting is at the Foothills Community Foundation (Holland Community Center), 34250 North 60th Street, Building B, Scottsdale, AZ 85266 (directions www.azfcf.org or 480-488-1090). The location is just slightly south of Carefree Highway on 60th Street.

Classes, Workshops, and Expanded Field Trips: Mary Kearney is the primary contact for classes and workshops at maryk92@aol.com and the only place to sign up or get more information. Please remember classes and workshops are open to AAS members only and DFC members have priority. There is NO registration on the day of the activity.

Field Trip: The Barry M. Goldwater Range - East is accessed through the Gila Bend Gate to USAF property on March 14th at a cost of $30 per person. You must be an AAS member to attend; Desert Foothill members have priority. Funds must be received by March 1st; there are no refunds. Dr. David Doyel (retired BMGR-East archaeologist) and Adrienne Rankin, archaeologist with BMGR-East, are leading the trip. This is a rare opportunity to see sites normally restricted to the general public. Probable locations on the agenda are Chris Glyphs, a tinaja site with rock art in an upland desert setting on the east side of the range, and Lago Seco, a large habitation site in a lowland desert setting on the west side of the range. Register and get further details from maryk92@aol.com; there is NO registration on the day of the trip. Departure time is a strict time following USAF guidelines.

Homolovi Chapter

The Homolovi AAS Chapter will present a video of a talk by Steve Lekson, A History of the Ancient Southwest, at the March meeting. In addition, Homolovi State Park is offering guided tours of the Historic Brigham City Fort and Historic Sunset Cemetery, as well as the Homolovi II Pueblo Tour every Saturday in March, as part of Arizona Archaeology and Heritage Awareness Month.

The Homolovi Chapter meets the second Wednesday of the month at 7 pm at the Winslow Chamber of Commerce Visitor Center (Historic Lorenzo Hubbell Trading Post), 523 W. Second St, Winslow, AZ, presenting rock art and related videos. For question or further information, call Sky Roshay at 928-536-3307. You can also join us for dinner at 5 pm at the Historic La Posada Turquoise Room (on your own tab).

Little Colorado River Chapter

February: The Little Colorado River chapter enjoyed a trip to Grapevine Canyon and Christmas Tree Pass near Laughlin, NV. The weather was near perfect at 80° and a light breeze. It was a welcome change from the much cooler temperatures in the White Mountains. After a short, easy walk up the wash, the multitude of petroglyphs engraved on the granite boulders was astounding. On many of the boulders there were layers upon layers of glyphs, mostly geometrics. One of our members has been researching the possibility that some of the glyphs are ancient Chinese writing. He recommended 4 glyphs he thinks are Chinese, provided photos of them and we were able to find and identify all of them – among the thousands. Some of us walked further up the canyon, scrambled up boulders to the ‘waterfall’ (which had no water that day) and enjoyed the magnificent view to the west. We continued the trip with a drive over Christmas Tree Pass. We enjoyed the stark beauty of the mountains, found a secluded alcove for lunch and passed through the many decorated ‘Christmas Trees’ at the top of the pass. It was a great trip, highly recommended.

The Feb. 16th meeting featured AZ Humanities speaker Erik Berg on The Eagle and the Archaeologist. It was very interesting to hear the story of the Lindberghs and their connection to southwest archaeology. A trip to the nearby Winslow Airport where the last remaining terminal and hanger from the Transcontinental Air Transport route is still in use will be included in a future field trip. Thanks to Erik for a great presentation.

Former Casa Malpais Museum director, Greg Cross, announced the recipient of the Volunteer of the Year Award for 2014. Greg’s wife, Lynette, spent countless hours keeping the museum running, organizing tours and providing support during difficult times and managed to maintain her own sanity and direct the LCRC at the same time.

She is a most worthy recipient of the award. Congratulations!

Tour season at Casa Malpais starts up again on March 3. The LCRC is helping to maintain the site by purchasing materials to replace fencing and provide shade and seating for visitors. We hope to have some of it completed before tour season starts. Tours will be available Tuesday - Saturday from the Casa Malpais Museum in the Springerville Heritage Center.

Regular meetings are held on the third Monday of each month at the Heritage Center. Contact Carol Farnsworth at farnsc570@gmail.com for more information.

Phoenix Chapter

March Meeting: Our March 12th speaker will be John D. Hall, Statistical Research, on The Luke Solar Project: An Extensive Middle and Late Archaic Period Site in the Western Phoenix Basin. From 2010–2013, Statistical Research, Inc. conducted phased data recovery on Luke Air Force Base for the construction of a proposed 107-acre solar-power-array. This project included the excavation of an extensive 44 acre site which contained over 3,000 buried features in a lower-bajada environment. The results of this project include the most substantial evidence of Middle and Late Archaic land use in the Phoenix Basin and southern Arizona. Based on the archaeological and geo-archaeological results, the site intermittently functioned as a seasonal habitation or resource procurement, processing, and staging locale. John Hall is a Senior Project Director at SRI in Tucson. He has worked on dozens of cultural resource management projects in the Southwest since 1997 and as a supervisor on large survey and data recovery projects. He served as the project director for the Luke Solar excavations, and has recently helped complete the analysis and write-up for this large and complicated project.

February Meeting: Chris Reed, from the Agua Fria Chapter, gave us a tour of the Natural Bridges National Monument, Utah, where he learned what it would have been to live on the edge. His presentation provided a photographic tour of the beauty, landscape, and archaeology of Natural Bridges and adjoining Cedar Mesa. Southeast Utah is known for some wild canyon country with Indian ruins; some of them are easy to get to, while others are beyond access. While we will never know all of the details of life here 1000 years ago, we do know that this area had a large concentration of small groups of 1-to-4 families trying to survive in a harsh world. While living there for the summer as a Park Ranger, he discovered life here has always been on the edge. Chris is an avocational archaeologist and a docent and tour guide at the Deer Valley Rock Art Center, and has taken several classes and workshops from the AAS. He has participated in many archaeological fieldwork sessions with the AAS, Forest Service, Park Service, and BLM. He spent the last five summers as a National Park Ranger at Petrified Forest, El Morro, Gila Cliff Dwellings, Bandelier, and Natural Bridges.

Upcoming Meetings:

- April 9: Kyle Woodson, GRIC: Hohokam Pottery Production Areas and the Organization of Ceramic Production and Exchange in the Phoenix Basin.
- May 14: Jerry Howard, AMNH: New AMNH Exhibit: Cultures of the Ancient Americas

Upcoming Events:

- March 7: Archaeology Expo, 9 am - 4 pm, Yuma Quartermaster Depot State Historic Park, Yuma. We will have a booth there. Stop by and say hello if you decide to attend the Expo!
- March 14: Ancient Technology Day at PGM (9 am - 3 pm).
- April 4: AAS State Meeting at Winslow to vote on the Bylaws Revision.

Sad News: Our chapter advisor, K. J. Schroeder, passed away on Jan. 26th. He was struck with an aggressive form of cancer that quickly ended his life. In addition to serving as our chapter advisor, K. J. was a long time

Rim Country Chapter

March: In recognition of Arizona archaeology and heritage awareness month the Rim Country Chapter is planning a special meeting for March. The featured speaker will be Doctor David Wilcox, his address: Changing Patterns of Resistance and Conflict in West-Central Arizona, A.D. 1100-1425.

There will also be a display of authentic Kachinas from Ed Spicer's private collection. Other displays will feature the progress of the excavations at Goat Camp Ruin, and highlights of recent RCC hikes and field trips. There will be a 50/50 raffle, featuring a prize in addition to the cash awarded.

A buffet luncheon will follow the conclusion of Doctor Wilcox' presentation. During lunch, a continuous loop slide show will be shown, featuring the recent field trip to Chaco Canyon. In the afternoon, beginning at approximately 1 pm, Scott Wood, our archaeology adviser, will lead a tour of Goat Camp Ruin. We will convoy to the GCR site, which is no more than a mile from our meeting place.

Guests are welcome for all of the activities. The gathering will take place on Saturday, March 21st, beginning at 10 am at the Fellowship Hall of the Church of the Holy Nativity, located at the corner of Easy Street and Bradley, in Payson.

--Wayne Walter

San Tan Chapter

March: Allen Dart will be our March speaker. The title of his talk: Archaeology's Deep Time Perspective on Environment and Social Sustainability. The deep time perspective that archaeology provides on natural hazards, environmental change, and human adaptation not only is a valuable supplement to historical records, it sometimes contradicts historical data that modern societies use to make decisions affecting social sustainability and human safety.

What can be learned from archaeological evidence that virtually all prehistoric farming cultures in Arizona and the Southwest eventually reached a threshold of unsustainability, which probably was a factor in the ultimate collapse or reorganization of their societies? This presentation looks at some of the archaeological evidence on environmental changes and how human cultures have adapted to those changes, and discusses the value of a "beyond history" perspective for modern society. Allen has worked full-time and volunteered as a professional archaeologist in New Mexico and Arizona since 1975, for government, private companies, and nonprofit organizations. He is employed full-time as an archaeologist for the U.S. Natural Resources Conservation Service in Phoenix. He also is the volunteer Executive Director of Old Pueblo Archaeology Center, a Tucson not-for-profit organization that he founded in 1993 to provide educational and scientific programs in archaeology and culture.

February: Our February meeting had a problem. Our scheduled speaker called early on the morning of our meeting and stated he had hurt his back and had to cancel. Jim Britton agreed to fill in with his PowerPoint presentation on: Risser Ranch Ruin Excavation & Stabilization. Jim's involvement with this Payson site began in 1989 with excavation of Room 8 and continues today as he coordinates stabilization at the site. In 2001 this site was acquired by the Northern Gila County Historical Society. His presentation included history of the excavations, stabilization and a few of the artifacts found. He concluded with a few sides of the Goat Camp Ruin excavation currently being directed by Scott Wood.

Survey: Sarah Steele, Park Superintendent for the San Tan Mountain Regional Park continues to survey areas of the park never before surveyed. This activity is open to others within AAS. If you are interested, contact Sarah, the director of this project, at steales@mail.maricopa.gov or call the park at 480-655-5554, x 202. We meet at 8 am at the Nature Center at the park entrance off of Phillips Rd. Take Ellsworth Rd south all the way to Hunt Highway, go east. Turn south on Thompson Rd go to Phillips Rd, turn west go to entrance and Nature Center. Plenty of free parking there.

The San Tan Chapter meets in the San Tan Historical Society Museum at 20425 S Old Ellsworth Rd in Queen Creek (on the corners of Queen Creek Rd and Old Ellsworth Rd.) They are held the second Wednesday of each month from September to May. The presentation begins at 7 pm. For more information on our chapter, contact Marie Britton at 480-827-8070 mbrit@cox.net.

Verde Valley Chapter

March: Our meeting will be held on March 26th, at the Sedona Public Library, 3250 White Bear Road, Sedona, at 7:00 pm. Our speaker will be Chris Coder, who will deliver to us A Brief History of the Yavapai-Apache Nation. Chris Coder grew up in the Mississippi River Valley of Northern Illinois, and has worked as an archaeologist in the West since 1980. His career has been focused on the Colorado Plateau with field experience on the High Plains and across the Intermountain West. He was project archaeologist for the Colorado River Corridor in Grand Canyon National Park from 1990 through 1996, and has worked for the Yavapai -Apache Nation as a consultant since 1997. Chris specializes in the evolution of landforms and their effect on cultural change and field survey, as well as Yavapai and Apache history. Chris has a degree in Geology from Augustana College in Rock Island, Illinois (1997), and a Master's Degree in Anthropology from Northern Arizona University (1983). Chris and his family live outside of Flagstaff.

Annual Memorial Speaker: Larry Lindahl, a Chapter Member and Professional Photographer, will be our Annual Memorial Speaker this year. The meeting will be held at the Creative Life Center in Sedona, at 7 pm on April 23rd. Larry will be discussing picturesque aspects of ancient sites he photographed in 50 National Parks and Monuments in the Four Corner states of Arizona, New Mexico, Colorado, and Utah. Larry will have auto-graphed copies of his new book, The Ancient Southwest: A Guide to Archaeological Sites, for sale.

Field Trips:

March 20: Page Springs Ruins and Petroglyphs. Meet at Sedona Public Library at 9am. to carpool. This trip is already full.

March 25: Tour of Honanki with Scott Newth, 9 am at Fay Canyon Parking Lot on Boynton Pass Rd. Scott is a Coconino National Forest Archaeology docent at Honanki (70+ rooms with hundreds of pictographs). He will be leading a free, open-to-the public tour, for Friends of the Forest. The tour will last approx. 2 hours.

Yavapai Chapter

February: Yavapai-Apache Elder Vincent Randall and Chris Coder, archaeologist for the tribe, spoke to nearly 50 members and guests on Feb. 19th about the significance of the archaeological and traditional religious sites that will be impacted by a land exchange the federal government is making for development of a copper mine near Superior, Arizona.

February Hike: On Feb. 28th, Arizona Site Stewards Jim and Barb Marcel will lead a hike to the Monument Hill petroglyph site near the town of Mayer. The hike is limited to 20 participants and is already full.

March: The chapter's March 19th meeting will feature Coconino National Forest Archaeologist Peter Pilles. He'll talk about new information gleaned from the Honanki site near Sedona, illustrated by the site's architecture, artifacts excavated from its well-preserved deposits, and the rock art produced by the eight cultures that once lived at this most remarkable site. The meeting will begin at 7 pm in the Pueblo Room of the Smoki Museum at 147 N. Arizona Avenue in Prescott.

Chapter members continue to serve as docents for the excavated pit houses at Willow Lake Park in Prescott. Nearly 200 people visited the site in just the first two days we've offered this service. The docents provide information and tours of the pit houses from 10 am to noon every Saturday.

Finally, the annual Indian Education Series presented by our friends at the Smoki Museum in Prescott begins soon. During March and April, they offer the opportunity for talks and workshops titled:

- "Byron Cummings and the Smoki Museum"
- "Hilltop Sites of Yavapai County"
- "Prehistoric Jewelry and Trade Routes of the Southwest"
- "Grand Canyon's Cultural Landscape"
- "Build Your Own Pot—Prehistoric Style"

For more information, visit the Smoki website at www.smokimuseum.org.
