If you’d like to serve, or know someone who might, please contact Sandy via phone (480-612-7727) or email (azmacaw44@cox.net) as soon as possible. See the slate of officers and the tentative agenda on page 2.

On Saturday, you’ll have time to buy raffle tickets for the Arizona Archaeology-Themed Quilt Raffle, created by Little Colorado River Chapter member Billy Wilda to benefit the AAS. We will also have our traditional Silent Auction and a Book Sale on Saturday and a variety of Field Trips on Sunday (details forthcoming).

Reason for change: The Society is experiencing a lack of volunteers to fill officer positions on the State Board. Several members who would like to volunteer have not served on their respective chapter boards, but did serve in similar management positions/501c3 board experience before they retired.

Change #2: Article IV, Section 7. The change will move the required date of the Annual Meeting from October to December. The phrase "before or on October 31st of each year" will be changed to "on or before December 31st of each year." (Change is underlined.)

Reason for change: There are often conflicts with events of other organizations that our members regularly attend which make scheduling the Annual Meeting in October difficult to impossible. This change will help eliminate those conflicts.

Desert Foothills Chapter

Last Meeting: Mary Kearney, chapter president, advised the group of plans for speakers through the end of 2016 as well as possible trips and other event plans for the fall season. The chapter updated via email blasts during the summer as well as posted information on the chapter website (www.azarchsoc.org/desertfoothills). The web page provides information in many formats from full details under Upcoming Events to a General Meeting Info Quick Reference Chart as well as our DFC 2016 Activities Chart, which is viewable or downloadable.

September Meeting: David Abbott, Ph.D., presents It’s All About Scale: Polity and Alliance in Prehistoric Central Arizona. The Pueblo IV period (ca. AD 1275-1400) in the American Southwest was characterized by political upheaval and population distributions for defense. In central Arizona, a large-scale confederation, labelled the Verde Confederacy, may have stretched along the middle and lower reaches of the Verde River and over to Perry Mesa. It is said to have formed during the preceding period and ultimately incorporated large populations and an expansive territory for purposes of warfare against their Hohokam enemies to the south. The Verde Confederacy may have been designed to provide for mutual security, such as a network of line-of-sight relationships that provided an early-warning mechanism and the means to mobilize assistance to neighboring parts of the alliance. Atop Perry Mesa, the settlement pattern indicates large pueblos were strategically built as components of an integrated defense in which the people of each pueblo protected the backs of the others while blocking access to all routes up the steep canyon walls from the foothills below. The hypothesized scale of the Verde Confederacy was regional in size. It may have included 12,000 members living at 135 settlements, and a swath of land 125 km in length. If so, the confederacy was organized at a scale that would have made it the largest alliance of its time. But, did it truly exist? Multiple lines of evidence have been brought to bear to address this question, including climate data, agricultural production, architectural building sequences, ceramic manufacture and exchange, and the spatial distribution of race tracks.

Chapter Web News: The AAS website, www.azarchsoc.org, features a Members-Only page. (Instructions for accessing this section are on the AAS Home Page and DFC Chapter Page, www.azarchsoc.org/desertfoothills.) This page features a collection of links to documents spread throughout the AAS public website. Please take a moment and look at these documents because they are informative and part of the AAS and DFC heritage. If you have information that can expand on these documents, Please Share. Hopefully, each of you keeps track of Desert Foothill Chapter news all year long or when away on other activities by checking in at our home page. The chapter page features a quick reference chart for upcoming speakers this fall; detailed descriptions are available under Upcoming Events. Keep up-to-date during summer or on vacations with the chapter web site and email blasts from your Desert Foothills Chapter.

Extended Field Trip: Arches National Park and Beyond with Dr. David Wilcox, Oct. 18-21, 2016. The cost is $175 per member with no refunds after Sept. 15th. A suggested itinerary is posted on the DFC website but changes are possible during the trip. This is a semi-hiking trip, with walking on gravel and uneven paths. Please know your hiking limitations. Dinners are up to you on all nights. We can evaluate how each day goes and what the group wants. Hotel or camping reservations, transportation, food, and fees, etc., are your responsibility. A high-clearance vehicle is recommended. For exact details, reservations, and waitlisting (likely situation) contact Mary Kearney at maryk92@aol.com prior to the cut-off date during summer or on vacations with the chapter web site and email blasts from your Desert Foothills Chapter.

Field Trip: Join us for a day trip to Rock Art Ranch on Saturday, Oct. 22nd. The entry fee to the Ranch is $20 to $25 per member, depending on how many attend. There is no fee from DFC. This trip is open to all AAS or DFC members with priority given to DFC members. There is a limit of 20 participants. The hike down to see the rock art is slippery and requires agility climbing a steep walk-way. Please know your limitations. A high-clearance vehicle is recommended as the road to the ranch and rock art is gravel. To sign up, email Mary Kearney at maryk92@aol.com; you must register with Mary prior to the trip! A more complete overview is available on the DFC website.

Workshop Class: Join Dr. Jim Graceffa and staff on Nov. 15th as they take you through the basics of identifying prehistoric pottery at the Verde Valley Archaeology Center in Camp Verde. Learn to identify different Wares and Types of prehistoric pottery found in the Verde Valley. The cost is $25 per member with the option to purchase a $15 book, Pottery Analysis for the Verde Valley. This class is open to AAS or DFC members with priority given to DFC members. Class size is limited to 14 preregistered members; you must sign up with Mary Kearney at maryk92@aol.com prior to the day of the class.

Homolovi Chapter

July: Members from the Homolovi, Agave and Little Colorado River chapters attended a tour of Rock Art Ranch to view the 2016 excavations and see the Chevelon Steps petroglyph site. The group was given some insight about the recent excavations of the pueblo which was occupied about AD 1225 to 1255, based on C-14 dates, and possibly later due to Leupp and Kayenta ceramic analysis. An earlier Basketmaker II occupation was also present with circular and bell pit storage areas. The group finished off the afternoon viewing the petroglyphs and dipping into Chevelon creek, which had fresh runoff and a wonderful temperature. The tour was led by Darlene Brinkerhoff.

We are also considering a field trip to the Petrified Forest to visit petroglyph sites there with William Reitze, Park archaeologist (once the weather gets cooler).

August: A number of our members attended the Pecos Conference, a dramatic and sometimes soggy event highlighted by some outstanding speakers with new research and ideas, a presentation by Ed Kabotie on the Hopi perspective of archaeology, and a great dinner and dance. The next week, our chapter speaker was Al Dart of Old Pueblo Archaeology Center, an Arizona Humanities speaker. His talk, Archaeology's Deep Time Perspective on Environment and Social Sustainability, was interesting, relevant and well-received.

September: On Sept. 14th, our speaker will be Darlene Brinkerhoff, who will introduce a video entitled Chocolate: Pathway to the Gods, documenting the significance of chocolate (cacao) to the gods, the rulers and everyday people, over several millennia in Mesoamerica (where it comes from) and the Southwest. Be creative – bring your favorite chocolate to share as we watch the video. More info at the University of Arizona Press website: www.uapress.arizona.edu/Books/bid1971.htm.

Chapter Meetings: All of our meetings are on the 2nd Wednesday of the month at 7 pm at the Winslow Chamber of Commerce Visitor Center (Historic Lorenzo Hubbell Trading Post), 523 W. Second St in Winslow. You can also join us and the speaker(s) for dinner at 5 pm at the Historic La Posada Turquoise Room (on your own tab). -- Sky (Majida) Roshay

Little Colorado River Chapter

The Little Colorado River Chapter has been operating in high gear all summer. Monthly meeting are held all year long.

June: In June we took a tour of some historic homes in Snowflake. We visited 4 of the many homes on the National Register; one of these is now the Stinson Museum, which showcases the Mormon pioneer settlers and the life they led. A very knowledgeable tour guide was able to answer all of our questions and recommended a wonderful restaurant for us, Celebrations, which is also located in one of Snowflake's historic buildings.

July: Our July speaker was Brenda Wilkinson, a BLM archaeologist from the Socorro, NM office. She gave us a visual tour of the Magdalena Livestock Trailway, one of 4 recognized Livestock Trailways in NM. It stretched from Magdalena to Springerville, AZ, and was in use into the 1970’s.

August: In August we welcomed Ken Zoll, who informed us about meteorites and the uses Native Americans made of them. Ken explained what asteroids, meteors, meteorites and meteo-wrongs are and how to tell the difference. His talk was especially timely in light of the recent meteorite which fell in the White Mountain Apache reservation.

September: Our September speaker will be Apache-Sitgreaves Forest Archaeologist Esther Morgan. She will talk about recent finds in the Apache-Sitgreaves Forest.

Other Activities: In addition to the meetings, the chapter has assisted the Casa Malpais Museum with some special events. An Open House was held at the end of July to celebrate the 50+ years that Casa Malpais has been on the National Register of Historic Landmarks. Well over 100 people took advantage of the free self-guided tours. That event was followed by another Archaeology Roadshow sponsored by Archaeology Southwest. Local people were invited to bring in artifacts they had in their homes, regardless of how they acquired them. People were given information as to the age, type of object, use of it, materials used and much more. A treasure trove of artifacts was brought in, examined and filmed. The artifacts included a Folsom point, a trove of beads, many projectile points, pots, jars, a shell effigy, a basalt mortar and much more. The results will be on the Archaeology Southwest website soon. Thanks to the AZ Humanities for helping sponsor the events and the visiting archaeologists, Doug Gann and Katherine Dungan.

The Pecos Conference was held in the Apache-Sitgreaves Forest near Alpine on Aug. 4-7 and the LCRC volunteered to help in many areas. It was a great conference, despite the downpour of rain. A big thanks goes to Alpine District Archaeologist Stephanie Welch, who organized the event. Still to come this summer is the Southwest Kiln Conference to be held in Springerville, Sept 15-18. It is too late to register for workshops or T-shirts, but anyone can come and observe the firing of pottery in the old way, listen to presentations and see demonstrations. Contact Casa Malpais Museum, 928-333-5375, for information.

Chapter Meetings: Meetings of the LCRC are held on the 3rd Monday of the month, unless a field trip is planned. Meetings are at 7 pm in the Udall-Johnson room of the Springerville Heritage Center. For more information, contact Carol at 928-333-3219.

Phoenix Chapter

September Meeting: The speaker for our first meeting of Fall 2016 - on Tuesday, Sept. 13th - will be Aaron Wright, a Preservation Archaeologist with Archaeology Southwest. His topic is An Archaeological and Historical Overview of the Painted Rock Petroglyph Site along the Lower Gila River. The Painted Rock Petroglyph Site is the most publicly accessible rock art site along the lower Gila River, and possibly in the entire state of Arizona. A listing on the National Register of Historic Places in 1977 canonized the site’s significance as a place of remarkable cultural heritage value and great scientific potential. Surprisingly, however, a comprehensive site recording of Painted Rock has never been published, and little is actually known about its archaeological context in general and the rock art specifically. This talk reviews previous research and places the site in the archaeological and historical context of the lower Gila River. (According to Aaron, the rock in the photo at right is a bell-rock, meaning it rings like a bell when struck, which is why the top is all beaten up.)

Aaron joined the staff of Archaeology Southwest as a Preservation Fellow in August 2006, where his fellowship concerned the rock art of the Phoenix South Mountains, where he guided and trained volunteers in archaeological survey methods and rock-art recording. He used the data from these surveys for his 2011 Ph.D. in Anthropology at Washington State University and it formed the basis for his book Religion on the Rocks: Hohokam Rock Art, Ritual Practice, and Social Transformation (2014).

October Meeting: The speaker for our Oct. 11th meeting will be Chris Loendorff, Ph. D., a Project Manager for the Gila River Indian Community Cultural Resource Management Program in Sacaton. Chris will be talking about Akimel O’odham and Pee Posh Bow and Arrow Technology: Modern Experimental Testing of Ancient Designs. The Akimel O’odham and Pee Posh used different types of bows for different purposes. Self-bows were used for small game hunting, while recurve bows were employed in warfare. Self-bows are the simplest design and consist of a piece of wood with a string attached. The bow stave for recurve bows, on the other hand, were intentionally bent to form a double-arch shape. Previous researchers have suggested that Athapaskans introduced recurve bows into the Southwest, and have also suggested that this design out-performed self-bows. Since there is very little experimental information available regarding performance differences between these bow types, carefully controlled experiments were conducted using different bow designs, and this presentation summarizes the results of this research. The painting at the left, by Amil Pedro, shows an O'odham Archer Using a Recurve Bow.

Chapter Meetings: The Phoenix Chapter will now meet at 7 pm on the 2nd Tuesday of each month in the Community Room at the Pueblo Grande Museum, 4619 E. Washington St., Phoenix. The speaker to dinner is at 5:30 pm at the Ruby Tuesday Restaurant on 44th Street and Washington. If you want to have dinner with the speaker, please call or email Marie (480-827-8070 or mbrit@cox.net) so that she can reserve a large enough table.

San Tan Chapter

September Meeting: Our Sept. 14th chapter meeting will feature paleontologist Doug Wolfe, Director of the White Mountain Dinosaur Exploration Center. He will talk to us about Geography of the Zuni Plateau; Road to Zuniceratops. Doug and his wife Hazel gave a great driving tour of the Wenima area around the Little Colorado for the Annual AAS State Meeting in Springerville. The tour examined the geology of the area and also the Moreno Hills where the group was able to hunt for dinosaur bones. Chapter member Jerri Freeman attended this tour and knows firsthand what a great trip it was. Doug will speak about his find of a new dinosaur called the Zuniceratops.

October Meeting: On Oct. 12th, Arizona Humanities speaker Eric Berg will present Eagles and Archaeologists: The Lindberghs’ 1929 Southwest Aerial Photographic Survey. Although Charles Lindbergh is best known for his pioneering 1927 flight across the Atlantic Ocean in his airplane, The Spirit of St. Louis, Charles and his wife Anne also played an important role in southwest archaeology. During the summer of 1929, the newlyweds worked with noted southwest archaeologists Alfred Kidder and Earl Morris and conducted one of the first systematic aerial surveys of prehistoric sites and geologic features in the Four Corners area. Over the space of several weeks, they took over 200 aerial images of such landmarks as Chaco Canyon, Canyon del Chelly, Grand Canyon and Meteor Crater. These remarkable photographs provide a rare view of the Colorado Plateau in the 1920s and unique insights into a wide range of changes that have occurred since then. Erik Berg tells the exciting tale of the Lindberghs’ southwest adventures and discusses a recent project to re-photograph these historic images. The presentation will include many rarely seen images from the Lindbergh survey.

Erik Berg is an award-winning historian and writer with a special interest in the early 20th century southwest and the impact of science and technology. Raised in Flagstaff and a graduate of the University of Arizona, Berg has been exploring, hiking, and researching the southwest for over twenty years. In addition to contributing to several books and numerous conferences, his work has appeared in the Journal of Arizona History, Arizona Highways, Astronomy, the Journal of the Society of Commercial Archaeology, and Sedona Magazine. A past-president of the Grand Canyon Historical Society, Berg currently lives in Phoenix where he works as a software engineer for Intel Corporation.

Regular Meetings: The San Tan Chapter meetings are held at the San Tan Historical Society Museum at 20425 S Old Ellsworth Rd in Queen Creek (on the corners of Queen Creek Rd and Ellsworth Loop Rd.) Overflow parking is available behind the museum off of Queen Creek road. Our meetings are held on the 2nd Wednesday of each month from September to May at 7 pm. For more information on our chapter, contact Marie Britton at 480-390-3491 mbrit@cox.net or Earla Cochran at 489-655-6733.

September Meeting: Our next meeting will be held on Thursday, Sept. 22nd, in the Community Room at the Sedona public Library, 3250 White Bear Road, Sedona, at 7 pm. A fascinating program, Preserving the Archaeology of the Red Rock District, will be presented by Spence Gustav. According to Spence, the Red Rock District of the Coconino Forest has one of the richest assemblages of archaeological sites within public lands in the United States! Many of these sites are visited by the public after finding out about them publications and websites, or by hikers going off established trails. With increased knowledge of locations and visitation to the remote areas of the Red Rock District, preservation has become a significant problem.

For over 20 years, volunteers from the AAS and the Sedona Friends of the Forest (FOF) have been docents at Forest Service Cultural Heritage Sites including Honanki, Palatki and V bar V. They provide site information to visitors that enhance the quality of their visit while also monitoring activity to help protect the sites.

In 2011, in response to several incidents of vandalism at or near these sites, a FOF volunteer team headed by Spence began converting all of the Forest Service archaeologist's photos to digital format for use in documentation and evaluation of the ongoing situation. This involved the conversion of almost 100,000 prints and transparencies! Following the conversion to digital format, an additional FOF team has been creating a digital database to assist in finding specific information from the photos as needed.

While converting the existing photo data, it was realized that many of the sites in the district had minimal or marginal photo coverage and were not well represented. In 2012, a FOF team began detailed photo documentation of the Palatki area sites followed by Honanki and V bar V. The project was then expanded to photograph other sites in the Red Rock District. To date, almost 150 sites have been completed, resulting in over 50,000 photographs! All site photographs include site and rock art panel identifying numbers, panel element numbers (when possible), room numbers and room wall identifiers. Of the sites done to date, 27 are "new" sites that were previously not represented in the Forest Service databases. An additional 30+ sites were known to the archaeologists but had minimal or no photo documentation. When the photo team records these sites, they also have been able to provide up-to-date, accurate site coordinates using GPS technology.

During the evolution of this photo documentation effort, a variety of traditional and relatively new techniques and technology have been employed to gain maximum benefit from the data. Several of these will be highlighted in Spence’s presentation.

A further offshoot of this project has been the integration of efforts by the FOF Graffiti Remediation Team. When possible, members of the Graffiti Committee are embedded with the photo team or include a trained member of the photo team to carry out remediation of graffiti in the vicinity of some of these sites. As incidents of graffiti or vandalism are reported, the photo documentation is used to evaluate the impact and potential for remediation.
After over two decades of ongoing efforts to protect and preserve archaeological sites in the Red Rock District, the Friends of the Forest, Cultural Resources Committee received the 2016 Award in Public Archaeology in the category of Private, Nonprofit Entity to recognize the contribution made to the preservation of Arizona’s unique heritage! Anyone interested in being involved should contact the Sedona Friends of the Forest via the website www.friendsoftheforestsedona.org/.

Spence is a retired petroleum geologist, with a MS degree in Geology from the University of Massachusetts, Amherst. For 35+ years he lived and worked in the international arena including Europe, Middle East, North Africa, West Africa, South America, Central America, and South East Asia. His career overseas provided great access to a variety of archaeological sites around the world. He has a BS degree in Archaeology/Anthropology from Hunter College-CUNY. Spence has had extensive archaeological experience in field and laboratory methods in NY, NJ, Pennsylvania, Wyoming, Colorado, Montana, California, N.M., Kenya, Tanzania, Madagascar, and South Africa.

He retired to Sedona in 2007 and immediately went out to Palatki Heritage Site in Sedona to see how he could become a volunteer. He continues to carry out docent duties at the Cultural Heritage sites and trains new docent volunteers as needed. He is also an active member/volunteer with Sedona Friends of the Forest and Verde Search and Rescue.

Monthly Meetings: Whether you are a novice or professional, the Verde Valley Chapter welcomes everyone with an interest in archaeology and anthropology. Please join us this month for this fascinating program. Admission is free. For additional information or questions, contact Nancy Bihler 928-203-5822.

Yavapai Chapter

We’re Back!!!: After a brief respite of two sweltering months (sweltering, not swell-touring, although we hope you found time for a few trips.) we met on Aug. 20th for our fall picnic. For the past three years, Sandra and Leonard Hennigan have been our gracious hosts, but this year, we decided to gather in the Pueblo for a potluck picnic and let the Hennigans be guests this year instead of hosts. This year we had a very nice time with about 30 folks sharing vittles.

June Meeting: The speaker for our June 20th meeting was Scott Kwiatkowski, Anthropologist/Archaeologist with the Yavapai-Apache in the Perry Mesa area. His presentation was on Fort Mountain, a prehistoric masonry walled Hohokam site located north of Phoenix and west of Cave Creek. His talk addressed an evolution of research reports that each attributed different functions for the site including defense, communication, celestial observance, and ceremony.

May/June Field Trip/Workshop: The May field trip actually took place in June and wasn’t a field trip. A Willow Lake Pit Houses Restoration Workshop was conducted by Gay Kinkade with able assistance from Susie Kinkade and eight Yavapai Chapter members. Vandalism in 2015 and pit-house rodents each caused damage requiring repair. (On second thought, that last sentence was redundant since the vandals are also human rodents.) Our president, Julie Rucker, extends her thanks to Gay and Susie Kinkade, Warner Wise, Joann Read, Chris Cone, Jeff Martin, and Ken Bigolin for volunteering their time to preserve this important archaeological site. More information and photographs are on the YCAAS web page at www.azarchsoc.org/Yavapai. If you haven’t looked at the Yavapai Chapter webpage for a while, do it today!

June 25th Field Trip: We met at Mescal Gulch on Mingus Mountain for our June field trip led by Warner Wise, Educational Coordinator. The lower section included 41 metate grinding holes (ed: There must have been a fast food restaurant in the area with 41!! holes.) and a cupule rock. The upper section of the site was on the other side of the canyon and that part involved a considerable hike. At the top, hikers were rewarded with gravesites and a large lithic scattering. Thanks to Sandy Gauthier and Chris Cone for the attached photos.

Fall Events:
- Sept. 15: Meeting, with speaker Sandy Lynch on Prehistoric Beasts
- Sept. 17 or 24: Field Trip
- Oct. 8-10: Zuni Pueblo multi-day field trip – Flo Reynolds
- Oct. 20: Meeting, with speaker Chuck Adams on Rock Art Ranch
- Oct. 22 or 29: Field Trip
- Nov. 4-5: Annual State Meeting; Field Trips on Nov. 6th
- Nov. 17: Meeting, with speaker Kim Spurr, topic TBA
- December: Holiday gathering

YCAAS PHOTO GALLERY – http://www.azarchsoc.org/Yavapai: Beginning with our Sept. 15th meeting, we will inaugurate our first-ever YCAAS Photo Gallery on the Yavapai Chapter page of the AAS website (address above). Exhibits will be on the website from one monthly meeting to the next. The first exhibit will be ready Sept. 15th and the second exhibit will “open” on Oct. 20th. The third will appear on Nov. 17th. We hope to showcase” quality work by involved photographers who will share images that broadly reflect interests of our membership in Arizona, but may extend out of our region as well.
October Multi-day Trip: Flo Reynolds announced that she was busy planning for an October trip to Zuni and El Morro plateau (National Monument) with hopes that we can schedule the Zuni visit at the same time as the harvest dance.

AAS Annual Meeting: YCAAS will host the 2016 Annual Meeting of AAS on Nov. 4, 5, and 6. Planning is at an early stage, but we already have a festive weekend prepared with field trips, dinners, silent auction, exhibits, book sale, and opportunities to visit some of the terrific museums in Prescott.

We are requesting donations from YCAAS members, but members of all chapters are welcome to donate items to our SILENT AUCTION and BOOK SALE. We need donations for both events. If you have something that you can contribute, please bring the item(s) to the September 20 meeting if you are a YCAAS member or if you are from another chapter and want to donate, please contact charlesstroh@yahoo.com (Silent Auction) or conecj@yahoo.com (Book Sale)

Fielder Fund: Your Chance to Support AAS Publications

The Fielder Fund was created by the Society in 1996 to inform the public about American Southwest history, archaeology, and anthropology through the support of publications and other media. The goal is to build a fund large enough that its annual interest can pay for publication of The Arizona Archaeologist and other publications. The name honors the Society’s first publications team, Marje and Herb Fielder.

The usual Thank You to William Henry for his $50 monthly donations.
