 FROM THE CHAIR

The Verde Valley Chapter is hard at work finalizing the program for the 2022 State Meeting which will be held in Sedona on Oct, 29-30 at the Sedona Elks, 110 Airport Rd, Sedona, AZ 86336. The theme of this year's meeting is "ROCK ART OF ARIZONA....AND BEYOND." The lineup of speakers so far includes Ka'miloa Chrisman, Spence Gustav & Jon Petrescu, Neil Weintraub, and Aaron Wright, along with Keynote Speakers Evelyn Billo and Kelley Hays-Gilpin.

DAY-TRIPS: They have arranged for three day-trips on Sunday, Oct. 30th, for those who stay overnight. So far they have a tour of the Loy Canyon Rock Art Site led by Scott Newth, a tour of the Palatki Heritage Site led by Spence Gustav, a tour of the V-V Heritage Site led by Ken Zoll, and at least one docent-led tour of the new Verde Valley Archaeology Center in Camp Verde at 10 am on Sunday, limited to 20 participants. There might be a second tour if there is enough demand. The tour is free but donations are welcome. Sign up sheets will be available on Saturday, Oct. 29th, starting at 9 am. First-come, first-serves basis, space limited for each tour.

OTHER NEWS: In addition to the upcoming State Meeting, the Verde Valley Chapter is also hosting a special memorial on Sept. 17th for their long-time chapter advisor, Dr. David R. Wilcox, who passed away in May. He was also a State advisor, and his sage advice will be greatly missed.

On a brighter note, there is a SCAAS workshop coming up in Tempe (SCAAS) and an upcoming conference in Flagstaff (AAC) - see details on page 8; online learning opportunities from Archaeology Southwest and the Crow Canyon Archaeological Center as listed on page 9; and seven additional educational opportunities as well as one rock art tour highlighted on page 9.

Hopefully by next month we will be announcing the return of day hikes across all of the different regions of the state.

CHAPTER NEWS

Agave House Chapter

May Zoom meeting: Anthony Cooley, the great-grandson of C. E. Cooley, who reportedly was involved in a card game which ended up naming Show Low, AZ, was our speaker for May. We learned that the infamous card game of 1876 called “Seven Up,” in which the showing of the low card won, between C. E. Cooley and his neighbor in the Mogollon Rim Area, Marion Clark, more than likely did not happen as folklore claims. Anthony has done extensive research on his family history and the historical facts and records don’t add up! It was fascinating to hear how this all came about and what those facts and records really show.

Anthony, like his great-grandfather, has a rich and fascinating family history and is one of the best storytellers we have had the pleasure of listening to. He grew up in Cibecue on the Apache Reservation. From the 5th grade on he lived with his mother in Show Low and at the Kinishba Ruins Museum, 5 miles west of White River and Ft. Apache. He has written many stories for the White Mountain Independent Newspaper and the True West Magazine.

June Zoom meeting: Sara Stauffer is the Sitgreaves Zone Archaeologist of the Apache-Sitgreaves National Forests (ASNFs). Sara has worked for the Forest Service for 13 years and has been on the ASNFs for almost 6 years. She has a passion for archaeology and enjoys sharing that passion with others. She received her MA in Archaeology from BYU in 2012 and has conducted research throughout the southwest including Utah, Idaho, Nevada, and Arizona.

Sara’s presentation, Got Maize? The Development of Formative Prehistoric Communities along the Mogollon Rim, took us on a time journey exploring the development of prehistoric sedentary communities along the eastern half of the Mogollon Rim. Starting in the Archaic Period about 8,000 BC to AD 200, the inhabitants were highly mobile hunter gatherers. Corn began showing up around 1,500-1,000 BC, and beans and squash followed right behind. The three veggies are called the three sisters because they grow well together.

Sara went on to outline the chronology of the Rim area. Her presentation showed her passion for archaeology and kept us fascinated for the entire time. We really enjoyed her presentation.

Desert Foothills Chapter

September Meeting: Wed., Sept. 14, Scott Wood will present an overview of current and past work at Goat Camp, Perry Mesa, Sears Kay and Shoofly Ruins. Come and enjoy these great topics from Scott, as well as renewing acquaintances and seeing friends again.

October Meeting: Wed., Oct. 12, Christopher R. Caseldine, Ph.D., presents What is Hohokam? Thoughts from the Tonto Basin and Below the Mogollon Rim.

Just in case you forgot: Desert Foothills Chapter monthly meetings/talks start at 7:30 pm with refreshment/socialization at 7 pm at the Good Shepherd of the Hills, 6502 E Cave Creek Rd, Cave Creek, AZ 85333.

Special Request: The church has meetings that end around 6 pm, just before our chapter meeting. We need help rearranging the seating area for our meeting. If a few of you could come around 6:30 pm to help it would be terrific and greatly appreciated. We just have a few bumps in the road to address after not having meetings for 2½ years! Thanks in advance.

Special note for DFC members: Mary Kearney sends pertinent information each month to our DFC membership in the form of email blasts that are supplemental to the AAS Petroglyph publication and chapter website at www.azarchs.oc.wildapircot.org/desertfoothills Please watch for this DFC membership notice and if you don’t receive the monthly notice, check your SPAM folder, ensure your email address in chapter records is current, or lastly advise Mary via email at maryk92@aol.com.

We are resuming face-to-face meetings and activities as of the September meeting, although we may continue to use Zoom as needed because it provides a greater pool of speakers.

Phoenix Chapter News

Sept. 13th In-Person Talk at PGM at 6:30 pm: Linda Gregonis, Research Archaeologist, will present Birds, Lizards, and Bighorns: The Hohokam and their Animal Icons. The Hohokam had an intricate relationship with animals of the Sonoran Desert that is revealed in their artwork. Their realistic, playful, and abstract depictions of creatures on pottery, carved stone, shell, and rock art, show not only their close observations to the natural world, but how they viewed that world in a cosmological context. Linda will explore how the creatures can be considered as Beings within the broader Mesoamerican-Southwestern belief systems of animism, transformation, duality, directionality, and world centering-world renewing practices. Linda has worked in southern Arizona for more than 40 years, primarily in the Tucson area. Her interest in Hohokam iconography stems from her analysis of pottery recovered from sites throughout the region

Changes for 2022-2023 Season: Per the request of PGM, we will be starting at 6:30 pm instead of 7:30 so that we can be out by 8:30 pm. We will also provide bottled water or other beverages and individually wrapped snacks until the threat of Covid disappears.

Field Trips: Although the Phoenix Chapter has not organized any field trips since the pandemic began, the Rim Country and San Tan chapters have been quite active and several of our chapter members have joined them on their field trips. Hopefully we will be able to organize some local field trips soon!

Upcoming Meetings at PGM:

Oct. 11: Richard Ryan, Ice Age Arizona: Plants, Animals & People

Nov. 8: Ryan Arp, Recent Research on Oversized Structures within a Hohokam Village in the Phoenix Basin

Rim Country Chapter

The Rim Country Chapter (RCC) will be resuming in-person monthly meetings beginning on Sept 17th. Meetings will be held in the morning at 10 am on the third Saturday of each month (except summer) unless otherwise specified. Come a little earlier to mingle and help setup. We will be meeting at a new location between Payson and Star Valley, on the south side of Highway 260, at the US Forest Service Ranger Station, 1009 E State Highway 260, Payson, AZ 85541.

Upcoming Events:

Sept. 17th: In-person meeting beginning at 10 am. J. Scott Wood will present Getting up to Date at Goat Camp Ruin. It will be a PowerPoint presentation on the latest work completed in the Spring for the Chapter's Goat Camp Ruin excavation and interpretive development project. Scott Wood has been leading the ongoing excavation of the Goat Camp Ruin, primarily by AAS members, for some ten years.

Goat Camp Ruin is a small, well-preserved prehistoric Northern Salado masonry village occupied during the Hohokam Classic Period (1150-1450 CE). Earlier the site was one of the largest pre-Classic Hohokam pithouse villages in the Payson area. It contains some 25 surface rooms of both full height stone masonry and jacal walls on stone foundations, a central plaza, and a number of stone retaining walls and check dams, a large, partial enclosing retaining wall, and an earlier buried pithouse component. There is also an Apache occupation component in several of the rooms, including probable Apache roasting pits. Goat Camp Ruin is mostly owned by the Town of Payson. The Town plans to develop this site into a small interpretive archaeological park and a point of interest along the Payson Area Trail System.

Scott Wood worked his way through both the University of Arizona and Arizona State University, receiving an MA in Anthropology from ASU in 1978. He has also worked for the Museum of Northern Arizona, the Pueblo Grande Museum, and ASU, and volunteered for the Forest Service in the Tonto National Forest. He became the Tonto National Forest Archaeologist and served in that role for 40 years until retiring in 2015. Scott helped found the Arizona Site Steward Program and is President of the Friends of the Tonto National Forest. Besides the Goat Camp Project, Scott also works the similar all-volunteer Perry Mesa research project.

He is the author of “Checklist of Pottery Types for the Tonto National Forest: An Introduction to the Archaeological Ceramics of Central Arizona” published by the AAS in The Arizona Archaeologist series (#21). Scott modestly says, “The few pottery types listed here do not constitute anything like an exhaustive study.”

Sept. through Dec. Goat Camp Excavation: AAS Members will continue excavations at Goat Camp on selected Saturdays and Sundays from October through December. Contact Scott Wood for details and participation (jscottwood@aol.com).

Membership: Chapter Membership ensures that you will receive emails alerting you to meetings, field trips, and other events. Contact Rim Country Chapter treasurer Dennis DuBose, email dadubose@gmail.com for membership information.

San Tan Chapter

The San Tan Chapter is resuming in-person meetings as of Sept. 14th - see below. Monthly meetings are held Sept. through May on the 2nd Wednesday of each month at the San Tan Historical Society Museum at 20425 S. Old Ellsworth Rd. (on the corner of Queen Creek and Ellsworth Loop Rd.). Parking is behind the museum. From Ellsworth Rd, go east on Queen Creek Road and then make a sharp right into the rear parking lot. Presentations start at 6:30 pm. Dinner with the speaker is at 5:30 at Serrano’s Mexican Food Restaurant, 22701 S Ellsworth Rd., Queen Creek (480-987-0192). For more info, contact Marie Britton at 480-390-3491 or mbrit@cox.net.

The San Tan Historical Society Museum has a very large collection of native American pottery and a storeroom full of artifacts. Earlier this year the Museum’s roof developed a huge leak after a recent rain. The San Tan Chapter was called on to help remove and re-box many of the sherds and lithics housed in the storeroom. When we began moving some of the artifacts, we discovered there were many boxes that had plastic bags full of sherds. One of our board members asked if we could start analyzing the sherds. Marie decided to take on this project to teach eight volunteers how to analyze sherds. It was discovered that none of the artifacts were provenienced, which means we don’t know where the sherds were found or originated. It’s been an interesting learning experience for the volunteers and this instructor. We have been working on this project since early June and we meet every other Wednesday from 9 to 11am.

June 20th: The Hall of Flame Museum Tour.

San Tan Chapter members and friends (see photo at right of our tour group) were treated to a private tour of the world’s largest museum of firefighting equipment hosted and led by San Tan member George Renner, a Hall of Flame employee. He told us the history of firefighting through the ages. The oldest piece of equipment on display is a man-pulled, bucket-fed pumper from 1725. The newest addition to the museum is a fully restored 1926 chief’s car. We played in the children’s area (well, some of us did). We viewed the last remaining heavy rescue unit that was at the 9/11 attacks in NYC, Rescue 4 from the NYFD, as well as the vehicle that took the Granite Mountain Hotshots to the fateful Yarnell Hill fire in 2013. We were treated to a backstage tour of pieces being refurbished for later display including a snorkel truck and a crash truck from an Air Force Base. All in all, it was a very interesting and educational visit. If you want to visit the museum, George will be happy to give you the tour if he is on duty that day. You can contact him directly at 480-980-8220. (More photos follow)

Sept. 14th: Ethnobotanist Dave Morris (photo on right) will speak on Plants and People in the Sonoran Desert starting at 6:30 pm. Always informative and entertaining, Dave will discuss the ethnobotany of the Southwest. He will tell some stories and talk about several cultivated and gathered plants used by people in the Southwest. Plants have provided for the food, medicine and spiritual needs of the Sonoran Desert people since prehistoric times. David is a member of the Choctaw Nation of Oklahoma and has been a resident of Arizona for over fifty years learning, exploring, and teaching. He received a degree in plant sciences from Northern Arizona University. Retired from the Pueblo Grande Museum, David volunteers with the Arizona Site Stewards and the Boyce Thompson Arboretum. Some of his stories come from his experience as a schoolteacher in Arizona Native American communities.

Verde Valley Chapter

Our September meeting will be on the 3rd Thursday, Sept. 15th. This is a schedule change from our normal 4th Thursday. The time and location will be the same, at 3:30 pm at the Sedona Public Library. We will see a very informative 1945 Navajo Documentary film of never-before-seen footage of life on the Navajo Reservation through the eyes of its people.

More details and information concerning the VVCAAS Scholarship Program will be presented at this meeting.

Yavapai Chapter

Summer activities included manning the pithouses at Willow Lake Park, which happens on the first Saturday of every month with Warner Wise, Chuck Jenkins, and Andy Christenson usually present to give tours. The chapter ended a wet summer with a picnic in the sun at the same park.

Speaker Schedule:

Sept. 21st: Ryan Arp, Environmental Planning Group, Tempe, will talk on The Archaeology of Oversized Structures, looking at recently excavated large structures at Pre-Classic sites like Cashion and Villa Buena in west Phoenix. The fieldtrip has yet to be decided.

Oct. 19th: Dale O'Dell, photographer, Prescott, will discuss his long-term photographic project Messages from the Past: Rock Art of the American Southwest - Photographic documentation, restoration & reinterpretation. We hope to go to a rock art site that he has documented as the field trip this month.

Nov. 16th: Joshua Ballse, artist/paleontologist/archaeologist and Hia Ced O'odham, will discuss his views on the importance of the scientific study of the evidence of previous indigenous peoples in Arizona and his work on 3D documentation of rock art. Josh is the recipient of a grant for this work from the chapter's Ginger Johnson bequest. He will take us to one of the sites he has been working on in this month's fieldtrip.

Dec. 21st: We plan to have our usual end-of-year Christmas party at the Museum of Indigenous People.

Unfortunately, if we don't have a couple of people step forward to take the President and Vice President positions (the latter has been vacant for several years), we will have to close the chapter. Forty-five years ago the chapter arose in an environment where development in central Yavapai County was increasing and protection for the many archaeological resources being threatened was more limited than today. Membership in the chapter gave access to archaeological certification classes and, with guidance from professional advisors, to many opportunities to work on excavations and analyses. Around 15 years ago, the increasing number of professional firms and regulations regarding who can work on excavations greatly reduced opportunities for fieldwork. Except for a rare project with the Forest Service and a ceramic analyst working with me, chapter members are no longer involved in archaeological research. The role of the chapter has focused upon adult education through lectures and fieldtrips, activities also performed by other organizations in the region. New leadership will need to step forward if this role is to continue.

The 2022 Field Documentation Workshop of the Society for Cultural Astronomy in the American Southwest (SCAAS)*
will be hosted by the School of Earth and Space Exploration at Arizona State University, October 7th thru 10th, 2022.

This workshop will be a continuation of the 2017 workshop with examples and lessons learned from our 2022 field work at Escalante Pueblo in Canyons of the Ancients National Monument. This workshop will be a “working” event with the goal of creating documentation standards, procedures and protocols to help standardize the study of cultural landscapes and the role of cultural astronomy within that research. This should not be considered a meeting where one observes and listens to presentations; we are intending to make this an active practical experience and working group.

The preliminary schedule includes the documentation session on Saturday where we will be discussing what needs to be recorded and the tools used in cultural astronomy fieldwork, followed by a working group on creating documentation standards and forms. Sunday will focus on the technologies used - similar to the 2017 workshop including demonstrations of GIS, photogrammetry, desktop planetarium software. Monday will be an optional tour of the new Heard Museum exhibit on cultural astronomy. We are planning to have a group dinner on Saturday night.

This workshop is limited to 25 participants. The program includes the Friday reception, coffee and light snacks at breaks, catered lunches on Saturday and Sunday and we are planning for a group dinner on Saturday evening. In the event that you must cancel your conference registration, a refund of 80% of your registration fees will be provided if you cancel on or before October 1. No refunds after October 1, 2022

* If you are interested in joining the SCAAS, go to <https://sfcaotas.wildapricot.org/join>.
Benefits of membership include: discounts to the conference; the quarterly newsletter; discounts for classes, conferences and programs; periodic emails with updates and news; invitations to members-only events; and access to the members-only website page.

2022 Arizona Archaeological Council Fall Conference
Best Practices and Ethical Approaches to Arizona's Archaeology
In Cooperation with Northern Arizona University
Friday, September 9, 2022, 9 am - 4 pm
du Bois South Union, Northern Arizona University, Flagstaff and simulcast on ZOOM

Archaeologists have long focused on developing better approaches to the methodology and interpretive frameworks of our discipline. Like archaeological communities across the country, Arizona archaeologists have strived to be at the forefront of such advances. Considering recent calls for increased focus on ethical approaches to archaeology and the protection and preservation of cultural resources in a multi-perspective and inclusive space, Arizona archaeology is primed to remain at the forefront of practice and industry. Addressing issues of sexual harassment, racial and social injustice, and gender equality as well as confronting our colonial legacy as a discipline is vital to contemporary practices and training. In addition, rising curation costs have encouraged practitioners to consider how to preserve Arizona’s cultural resources more efficiently without impeding development or sacrificing quality (e.g., fieldwork, artifact and data collection, respect for descendant communities). This year’s conference theme seeks to address these issues head-on to encourage best practices and ethical approaches that promote better preservation of Arizona’s cultural heritage.

For more information visit the Conference Webpage and read the 2022_AAC Fall Conference_Flyer.pdf

The conference is free to attend to AAC members and non-members alike. It will be held as a hybrid event, with in-person attendance at Northern Arizona University's du Bois South Student Union. The conference will also be simulcast online so those not able to attend can watch remotely. Whether you are planning to attend in-person or only online, we ask that you register with the link below. An email will be sent out to all registrants later with further information on how to access the conference.

Conference presenters and special guests do not need to register using the event system. Please confirm your attendance with an email addressed to aacboard@gmail.com.
